

Assistants

What if you had a team of assistants who knew your business inside out?

Imagine a team of assistants who know your business inside and out. A personal strategist helps you clarify ideas and make confident decisions. A communication expert ensures your customers always find what they need, 24/7.

Add a recruiter to simplify hiring and a sales trainer to level up your team—and you've got a powerhouse working tirelessly to grow your business smarter and faster.

The Personal Strategist - $500+GST

- Need to decide on a new product idea? The strategist helps you sort through the details and find the best path forward.
- Crafting an email or presentation? This team member suggests language that reflects your goals and values.
- Planning a campaign? Your sidekick keeps everything aligned with your business's principles and priorities.

Your strategist is always accessible on your computer or phone, ready to help whether you're brainstorming, planning, or making big decisions.

The Communication Expert - $500+GST

- A customer visits your website late at night with questions. This assistant guides them step-by-step to the right solution, whether it's booking a service, buying a product, or answering their questions.
- Your Communication Specialist provides instant answers to FAQs, like pricing or availability, saving your team time.

The assistant is integrated into your website or chat platforms. It handles customer inquiries and guides them to take action—all while you focus on other priorities.

Register for your Session

Assistants

The Recruiter - $500+GST

- Your AI-driven hiring assistant, designed to save you time and find the right people.
- Provides insights into job descriptions, rapidly preparing your job descriptions to attract the right talent.
- Screens resumes, highlights the best candidates, and confidently makes powerful recommendations.

The recruiter acts as your HR assistant, ensuring you hire smarter and faster without the administrative headache.

The Sales Trainer - $500+GST

- A dedicated assistant for levelling up your sales team.
- Provides interactive training based on your sales process, product knowledge, and real-world scenarios.
- Coaches your team on customer objections, closing techniques, and consistent messaging.

Accessible on-demand for your team to practice, refine, and master their sales approach.

Register for your Session